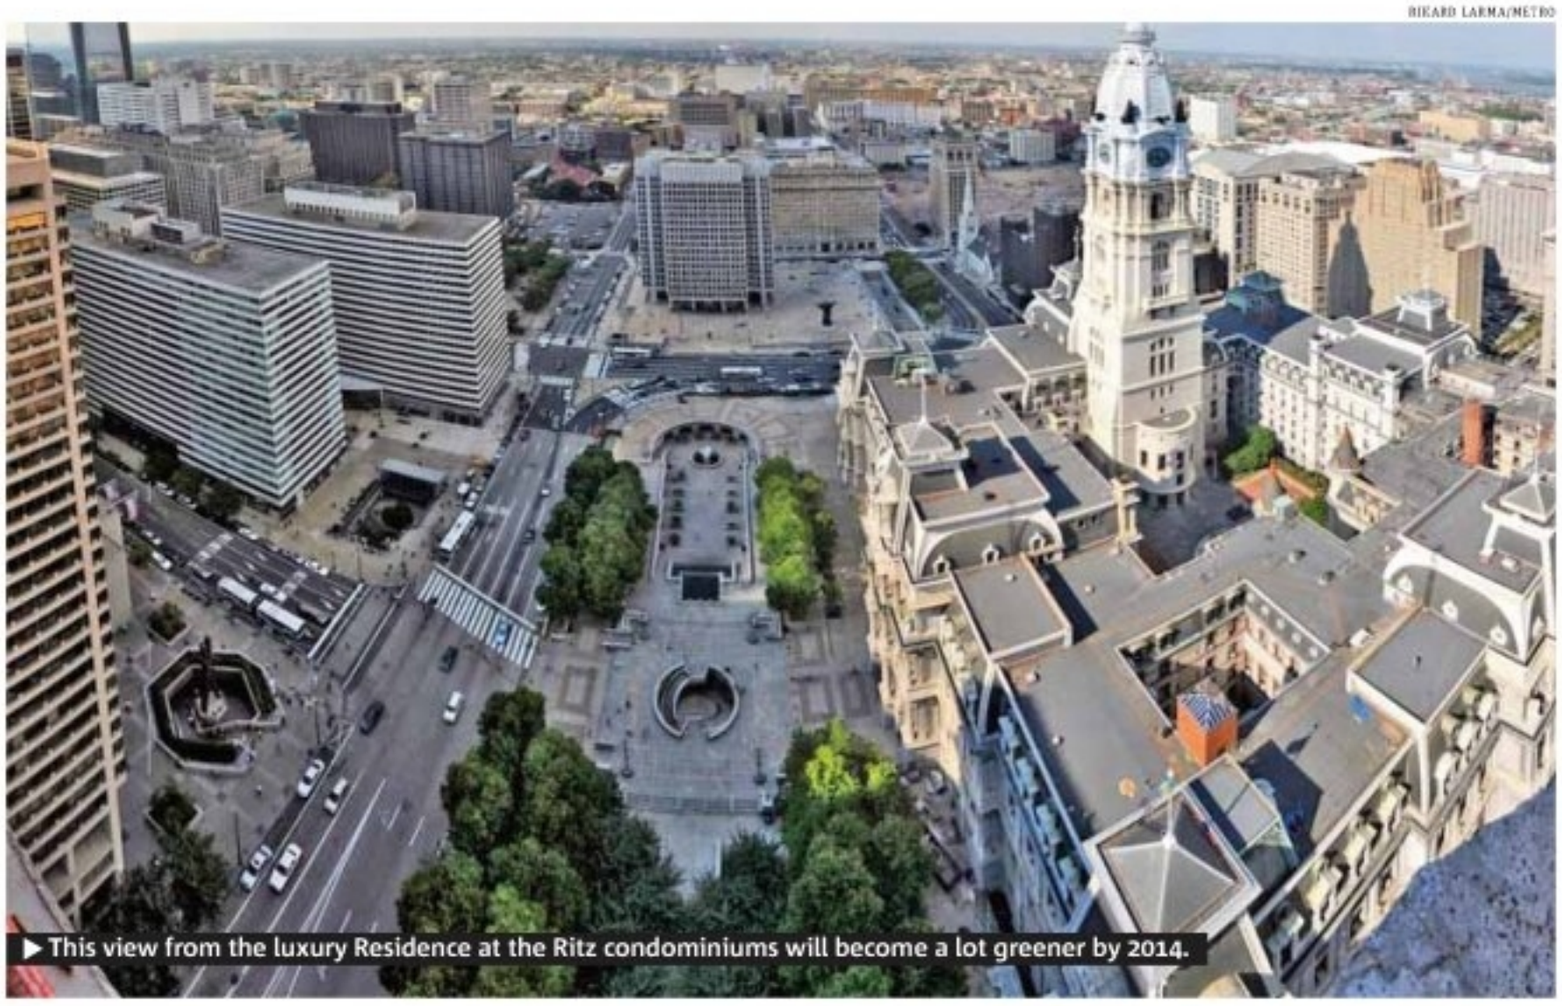
Dilworth Plaza makeover gets final approval

- City Hall's underused square will receive facelift over next three years
- Concrete will become grassy lawn with fountain, then ice rink in winter

RICARD LARMA/METRO



▶ This view from the luxury Residence at the Ritz condominiums will become a lot greener by 2014.

Plans to turn Dilworth Plaza into a greener, more pedestrian-friendly public space moved forward yesterday as the city's zoning board approved the designs, clearing the way for construction.

The $50 million project will create one level on the west side of City Hall and add grass, a sprinkler fountain that will be converted to an ice rink in the winter, an outdoor cafe and large glass entrances with elevators leading into the SEPTA system. Construction is expected to begin in the fall and be completed by spring of 2014.

Designed in the 1960s and named after former mayor Richardson Dilworth, the plaza has been a gathering spot for skateboarders and homeless residents in recent years, but the changes are expected to make it much more inviting to the general public, said Paul Levy, of Center City District, the project developer.

"I think people from the office district will routinely flock there. For people at the Residences at the Ritz, this'll be their front yard, and people coming from the Convention Center on Broad Street can walk right towards this," Levy said.

The new plaza is expected to host concerts and other events, Levy said. No operators have been selected for the cafe yet. The plaza's transformation will take place around the same time as planned changes at LOVE Park to make it more pedestrian-friendly.

The project has received local, state and federal funding, but officials still need $9 million to complete the work.

Makeover time

- Fall 2011: Construction will begin to convert the multi-level concrete layout into single level lawn.
- Spring 2014: Completion of Philadelphia's "fifth plaza" will give City Hall a brand new surrounding.

Last hurdles passed

The Dilworth plans needed a zoning variance for the ice skating rink and relocation of a garbage disposal in the cafe, but the only real question from zoning officials was about restrooms. Paul Levy, of Center City District, said portable restrooms will be available during the ice-skating season.

Father one day, then gone next

Father of Danieal Kelly, who died in 2006 from abuse and negligence, testifies he had no contact for prior year Prosecutors argue he should have tried harder

For nearly three hours yesterday, Danieal Kelly's father portrayed himself as a caring parent who was prevented from helping his daughter avoid death while under the watch of his ex-wife and unresponsive social service agencies.

The prosecution in Daniel Kelly's child-endangerment trial responded by alleging he just walked away, leaving Danieal in her mother's care, after a family argument in West Philadelphia.

Assistant District Attorney Ed McCann maintained Kelly pursued no legal options to regain custody when Andrea Kelly kept the children from him by moving and not telling him where they lived.

"I knew for a fact that she would be totally dependent on me for life and I accepted that," Kelly said. "I was happy to have her with me."

Kelly explained how his mother-in-law Naomi Washington helped him take Danieal and her brother away because of concerns about their care in 2001. They moved to Arizona, then returned to Philadelphia in 2005 to reengage with their mother and siblings.

When a family fight drew police, Kelly was ordered to leave, crashed at friends' apartments and never saw Danieal again.

BRIAN HICKEY
brian.hickey@metro.us

He said, he said

"The word of a single police officer was enough for you to leave those kids behind?" McCann asked.

"It was two officers," said Kelly, who maintained he was trying to save enough money to get his own house to regain custody of children whose location was hidden from him by their mother. She is currently serving 20 to 40 years in connection with the death.

Gone to Indiana

Confronted about not notifying anyone that he moved to Indiana before a Dec. 2010 court appearance, Daniel Kelly responded, "I've had physical problems, developed ulcers, a lot of anxiety. It got to the point, at the last minute, when I just got scared. I'm not making excuses, just trying to explain. This has all taken a toll on me. I loved [Danieal] with all of my heart." METRO/BPH

Catholic statues toppled in Cherry Hill

Two Catholic statues of the Virgin Mary at separate churches were toppled and broken by vandals sometime Monday into Tuesday morning, according to Cherry Hill, N.J., police yesterday.

The damage included one 6-foot marble statue to break in half when it was pushed from its mount at Saint Thomas More Church on Springdale Road and the head to break off of the artwork at Queen of Heaven Church on Route 70, reports said.

"I would imagine that they're very expensive and I don't think you can put a dollar amount on the value they have for the people of that church," Township Police Lt. Bill Kushina told Action News yesterday. He could not be reached later in the afternoon.

No arrests have been made or suspects identified yet. Police do believe the motive was likely vandalism and not a hate crime against Catholics, according to reports, but the investigation remains open.

'Love drug' dealer in court for threats

BOSTON. Prosecutors argued yesterday that a Northeastern University chemistry graduate student accused of selling an illegal drug to an FBI informant in a Philadelphia parking lot poses a danger to the community and should be held in jail pending his open drug and threatening cases.

Dennis Szymanski is facing drug charges for allegedly driving to Philadelphia to sell drugs and then creating fake Facebook and e-mail addresses to threaten that informant and his girlfriend. He allegedly arranged to meet at a Best Buy parking lot in South Philadelphia in April to provide him with 2 kilograms of MDA, also known as the "love drug," in exchange for $36,000.

Uncertainty, anger as economy falters

Americans lack faith that government can put partisan bickering aside and solve impending debt crisis Politicians seize political opportunity

CHIP SOMODEVILLA/GETTY IMAGES

▶ Speaker of the House John Boehner has taken a hard line on budget and debt limit talks between Congress and the White House.

Americans are deeply pessimistic about the future as economic concerns rise and White House talks on raising the U.S. debt limit sputter, according to a Reuters/Ipsos poll released yesterday.

The number of Americans who believe the country is on the wrong track rose to 63 percent this month, up from 60 percent in June, with high unemployment and prolonged gridlock in Washington dashing hopes of a swift economic recovery.

But voters do not appear to be holding President Barack Obama responsible for the problems so far. Obama's approval rating held relatively steady at 49 percent, down 1 percentage point from June. His approval rating among independents — a group Obama needs to win re-election — fell to 39 percent from 44 percent.

Obama's standing could deteriorate quickly if the economy does not begin to generate jobs and if Washington cannot show it is capable of solving problems, Ipsos pollster Julie Clark said. "If those things don't happen, Obama will be in for a real challenge in getting re-elected next year," Clark said.

Obama and Republicans have hit an impasse in negotiations to raise America's borrowing limit before the government runs out of money to pay all of its bills on Aug. 2. That could force the government to try to prioritize its payments.

The sputtering economy and high unemployment are certain to dominate the race for the White House in 2012, and the Republican candidates for the nomination to challenge Obama repeatedly have criticized his economic leadership.

The survey was taken after a weak jobs report last week showed the U.S. economy is recovering slower than expected.

"People aren't seeing the jobs that they want to see," Clark said. "One in five people say unemployment is the biggest problem, and there has been no improvement in that." REUTERS

Money talks

The poll found more than half of Americans think the economy is the country's most pressing problem.

- This poll signals the first time a public majority has put the economy at the top of the list since shortly after Obama took office.
- Talks between Obama and congressional leaders on raising the debt ceiling have made little progress.
- Republicans have insisted on spending cuts, while Democrats want tax increases, and neither side seems willing to budge.

Fed to the rescue?

WASHINGTON. The U.S. Federal Reserve is ready to ease monetary policy further if economic growth and inflation slow much more, chairman Ben Bernanke said yesterday.

While holding to a view that recent economic softness would eventually pass, he appeared less confident in that projection and more willing to entertain the possibility of another round of stimulus.

"The possibility remains that the recent economic weakness may prove more persistent than expected and that deflationary risks might re-emerge, implying a need for additional policy support," Bernanke told the U.S. House of Representatives. REUTERS

Missing NYC boy found dead in trash

Brooklyn man killed 8-year-old Leiby Kletzky in a 'panic,' cops say Child's feet found in refrigerator

Brooklyn, New York's Hasidic Jewish community is reeling with the news that one of their own is charged with killing an 8-year-old boy.

A frantic 48-hour search for Leiby Kletzky ended grimly yesterday when police discovered his remains in a Dumpster. Levi Aron, 35, was charged with the murder last night.

The nightmare began Monday when Kletzky's parents agreed to let him walk home alone from summer camp. They agreed to meet halfway.

But Kletzky apparently got lost, police said, stopping to ask Aron for directions. The boy was caught on police videotape entering the man's gold sedan.

The Hasidic community organized patrols, searching desperately for the boy and papering the neighborhood with "missing" signs. That was when Aron "panicked," New York City Police Commissioner Ray Kelly said. "And that is why he killed the boy."

Kelly said the "horrendous" incident could not be fully explained: There are no signs the boy was molested and a motive for the abduction is unclear. When police entered Aron's apartment, they found Kletzky's remains, including severed feet, in the refrigerator.

▶ The Brooklyn Jewish community was stunned by the boy's disappearance and murder.

Who is Levi Aron?

- He had no prior record, other than one summons for public urination.
- He is an Orthodox Jew.
- He suffered brain injuries as a child in a car crash, according to reports, and has been described by those who know him as "slow."

A new lady for Ryan Reynolds?

Ryan Reynolds and Charlize Theron are reportedly an item, according to Us Weekly. "[The two actors] have been dating — for months! They're exclusive, and it's very hush-hush," a source says. Last year, Reynolds split from ex-wife Scarlett Johansson, while Theron broke up with longtime partner Stuart Townsend. While the new couple is reportedly quite happy together, don't expect to see them out and about, sources say: "She won't go to an event with him. That's not her style."

No more kiddies for the Beckhams

Victoria and David Beckham happily welcomed their fourth child — and first daughter — earlier this week, but don't expect them to be welcoming a fifth. Friends of the couple say baby Harper will be their last, according to People magazine. "She was saying, 'I just want her to get here and want to be holding her in my arms – not in my belly,'" a source says of Victoria in the weeks leading up to the birth. "She had not been all that tired until the end, when it is just so hard to be active so pregnant."

A marriage is still in the works

While they've resisted the urge to tie the knot during their six years together, Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie are reportedly ready to walk down the aisle, three separate sources confirm to Us Weekly. The ceremony could happen as soon as this summer and would likely take place at the couple's newly renovated Chateau Miraval in Correns, France, which includes a chapel on its grounds.

"I lose my appetite," she tells Vogue. "By Wednesday of the first week on 'I Don't Know How She Does It,' I was sobbing. I was apologizing. I was feeling so awful and ashamed, like I had let the director down."

10 Reasons to cool off in a movie theater this weekend

2 'Winnie the Pooh' No 3-D or computer animation in this super-sweet new Pooh movie — just a purely delightful little film set in the Hundred Acre Wood.

3 'Horrible Bosses' No one likes working for a man-eater, psychopath or total jerk — but only a few of us would actually embark on eliminating said bosses. Jason Sudeikis, Charlie Day and Jason Bateman star as three hard-working men who attempt to do just that.

4 'Zookeeper' Fans of Kevin James will likely enjoy his romp around a Boston zoo, where talking animals give him dating advice.

'Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2'

1 There's no doubt that Harry Potter is going to rule this weekend's box office with his wizarding. The final installment of the franchise pits Potter against his life-long nemesis, the creepily noseless Lord Voldemort.

5 'Transformers: Dark of the Moon' Michael Bay has paid for the sins of the last "Transformers" film with this straightened-out sequel, which features fight scenes where you can actually see what's going on.

Our Aim is to Beat Most Offers!

We Strive to Beat All Legitimate Written Offers

Before Bringing your items to us, take them to other dealers. Have them give you legitimate offers in writing. Then bring your jewelry and written offers to one of our locations. Although no one can guarantee with certainty they are paying the highest price for an article at any particular time, we will strive to beat most legitimate written offers.

Why We Can Usually Pay More Than Other Dealers

Most jewelers and dealers specialize in few items and focus on newer looking items to resell. Because they are unfamiliar with many other items including vintage jewelry, old watches, coins, flatware, etc. they tend to offer very low prices because these items are not readily saleable for them. Our company has many specialized buyers for the various classifications of items that we purchase, therefore we can usually pay more.

A Note Regarding the Up To Prices listed in this Ad

The condition and rarity of an item determines its price. If an item is in excellent condition and very rare it might be worth the up to price, or even more. However, if an item is in poor condition, the value will be lower. For example, a 1927 S Quarter could be worth $7,000 in new condition or less than $20 in poor condition. The up to price reflects items of exceptional quality and rarity. Although it is unlikely you will have these items due to their extreme rarity, feel free to bring whatever items you may have and we will evaluate them free of charge.

Customer Satisfaction

Most of our business comes from satisfied customers and referrals which includes their friends and families. Our showrooms are safe and private. Our staff is courteous and professional and we strive as a company to make your selling experience a pleasant one.

PHILLLY'S A BARGAIN IF YOU KNOW WHERE TO SHOP

LANI LEE SUMMER 2011

Get to know: Christina Perri

- Yes, the 'Jar of Hearts' guy knows it's about him
- This Philly girl would love to be on the 'Shore'

Sure, Christina Perri's debut album "Lovestrong" landed in the top five of the Billboard charts the week it debuted, but perhaps even more noteworthy for the 24-year-old musician was the fact her double-platinum first single, "Jar Of Hearts," was performed by Lea Michele on the "Prom Queen" episode of "Glee." (Is there a bigger stamp of having made it for musicians in our new pop culture landscape? Probably not.) So now that she's overtaking the airwaves and TV sets, we had the tattooed sensation give us a little bit of background information.

Best piece of advice you've ever been given:
You're enough, just the way you are.
Favorite dish to cook for yourself when you're not in a rush:
A fruit salad. I use 13 different fruits, a melon baller, and I let it marinate in its amazing fruit juice deliciousness. Yum!
What is the most repetitive question you get asked on interviews?
"Does the guy you wrote 'Jar of Hearts' about know it's about him?" The answer is yes! And he thinks it's cool.
What reality show do you secretly want to be cast on?
"The Jersey Shore"!
What celebrity did you have a crush on as a teen?
Axl Rose and Johnny Depp
What's the last song you listened to on repeat?
"Flightless Bird, American Mouth" by Iron + Wine.
You are trapped on a desert island with a TV, a DVD player and the complete series discs of one television program. What is the program?
"Full House."
Best/worst date?
Best date: Dinner and live music. Worst date: No dinner and a night club.

30 Million men suffer performance issues. #1 reason is that they are over 50!

Thailand's "9 Inch" Root Holds Secret to Extended Male Performance!

Oregon man credited with bringing "oddly-shaped root" to U.S. market; improves blood flow, prostate function and ignites stamina!

Ever wonder why some men seem to be serving up a satisfying sex life while you are left hungry for more? When stress levels increase, certain nutrients become imbalanced, causing a premature decline in libido, testosterone levels and reduced circulation; all negatively affecting his ability to maintain physical performance levels. Not only do intimate encounters become less frequent, they become less pleasurable too!

" I was retired and finally had the time to enjoy myself but my body was holding me back. I truly believe that sex should be as satisfying today as it was when you first started having it. Sex is a part of being healthy. It's only natural to want to have more it of and for it to be satisfying!" says Tallman.

Rod is part of a group of "everyday guys" who used their retirement funds to invest in the research of a rare combination of herbs from the far East. Today they are receiving national acclaim for the all natural formula called 112 Degrees™, specifically designed to target the maturing man's overall energy, interest and physical performance by improving and optimizing total body circulation and prostate function.

Thailand's Gift to Men

112 Degrees contains top-quality, all-natural ingredients such as Tribulus Terrestris, L-Tyrosine, Pueraria, and Acai, formulated to improve male sexual health and performance, as well as support overall health and vitality. However, one ingredient in the formula can't help but stand-up in the group.

Butea Superba - One branch has 3 leaves and the flowers are of a yellowish orange color. It's long roots are similar to the roots of a yam and matures to about 8 to 9 inches. When the root is cut, it leaks red sap. Scientist have studied both the sap and the root fibers to isolate the male potency powers of this beautiful plant.According to a 2003 article in the Asian Journal Andrology the preparations of Butea are for male erectile dysfunction. It is affectionately referred to as herbal Viagra.

"My husband started taking 112 Degrees because he was experiencing performance irregularities. After taking 112 Degrees, he has no problems." Christy, AZ

Proof of Performance

Health professionals have noted that the "oddly-shaped root" may produce benefits such as a significant increase in the weight of the testes, higher sperm counts and a greater release of male sex hormones, which explains the plant's reputation for increasing men's sexuality. This translates into an overall better experience.

"For the last four years I have had a significant amount of trouble with frequency of urination. I've seen a significant improvement." Jude, OR.

Breakthrough Combination

112 Degrees users have also noted changes that include increased morning arousals, more intense release, improved urination, including ease of going and urine flow, and even getting up less during the night to urinate. Users can expect to experience improved blood flow, better prostate function and a dramatic increase in stamina.

"Early morning erections have returned. Sustained erections during intercourse. I am satisfied so far." John, NY.

Try A Bottle Free

If you're a man 45 years or older, generally healthy, who has noticed a decline in libido, physical ability or urinary function, then you may be suffering from reduced circulation and unhealthy prostate function and you can benefit from a free 30-day supply of 112 Degrees.

This non-prescription strength formula can help with sexual health and overall performance without side effects. LIFE SPAN Labs is sending out the first bottle free as part of a special promotion.

Sudeikis' devilish charm

- While promoting his new film, 'Horrible Bosses,' the 'Saturday Night Live' actor is quick with the quips
- And he's a stick-figure artist, too

JOHN P. JOHNSON

▶ Jason Sudeikis on the set of "Horrible Bosses."

At a press conference for last weekend's box-office hit "Horrible Bosses," it was obvious that of the three leading men — Charlie Day, Jason Bateman and Jason Sudeikis — who hatch a plan to off each others' bosses, it's Sudeikis who has a history of improv.

Cracking wise about one reporter's comment that Jason Bateman has never given a bad performance ("We gotta get you a Netflix account then") and Jennifer Aniston's ubiquity ("That's how I know you! You were on 'Friends'!") the "Saturday Night Live" cast member is always quick with a comeback — even if "Bosses" itself wasn't improvised at all.

"Improvisation for me is like the camera's rolling and we don't know where we're going and let's just waste people's time and money," Sudeikis says. "That's not what happens. All three writers laid out a tremendous framework and we sort of, at the beginning of the day, Charlie, Jason and I — and [director Seth Gordon] — would talk about the scene and we'd develop a different rhythm."

Getting graphic

Sudeikis' character falls into the trap of Charlie Day's man-eating boss (Aniston). When asked to describe how the off-camera scene with her might've looked, Sudeikis is very helpful.

"Here's how it went down," he says, grabbing a pen and a piece of paper. "These are stick figures. It's going to be very crude. Assuming that all our sex organs are in the same position as other people's, you've probably seen what it was before and I probably just held on for dear life."

What's next for Potter stars?

'The Deathly Hallows: Part 2' marks the end of the movies, but not the cast's careers — right? Here are a few ideas as to what they'll do next

Daniel Radcliffe in the upcoming supernatural thriller "The Woman in Black"

Daniel Radcliffe (Harry Potter)

Currently singing and dancing in the Broadway musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," the 21-year-old earned rave reviews, even if the production itself didn't. People want to like him and he wants to be liked. That said, "The Woman in Black," a moody ghost story due next year, doesn't look like a blockbuster.

Chances of future success: Four out of five wands

Emma Watson (Hermione)
Already a fashion magazine staple, Watson has left the genre ghetto for trendy indies. She's just finished filming "The Perks of Being a Wallflower," a comedy co-starring Paul Rudd, and will star opposite Michelle Williams in "My Week with Marilyn," about Marilyn Monroe. Sadly, she won't have a college degree to fall back on just yet — Watson left Brown University last fall before graduating, but will return in the fall.

Chances of success: Five out of five wands

Rupert Grint (Ron)
Is he ambitious, or just a stoner? Either way, "Ron" will continue to do what he did in between "Potter" films: make likeable movies that no one will see, including the war drama "Comrade" and "Eddie the Eagle," about the U.K.'s first Olympic ski jumper.

Chances of success: Three out of five wands

Alan Rickman (Snape)
He's always chasing Harry Potter — now all the way to Broadway. Rickman will star in "The Seminar," a new play, this fall.

Chances of success: How dare you ask? After "Die Hard," "Potter" and countless plays, the man's a legend. Plus, we're too scared to say otherwise.

SAM CASTONE
METRO WORLD NEWS IN LONDON

Tom Felton (Draco Malfoy)

He can die saying he starred in "Harry Potter" and was Emma Watson's first on-set crush; what more does Felton need to do? His choice: Getting attacked by primates in "Rise of the Planet of the Apes," out this August.

Chances of success: Two out of five wands

When it comes to summer holidays, Bastille Day really takes the cake. Head over to Fairmount this Saturday for the annual storming of Eastern State Penitentiary, complete with a Krimpet pelting from Marie Antoinette (aka London Grill co-owner Terry McNally). The festivities kick off tonight (Bastille Day proper) with a "French Fling" bar crawl and extend through Sunday, when London Grill hosts a champagne brunch with a make-your-own Bloody "Marie" bar. The skinny on Valanni's new low-cal cocktails

The time for indulging in frozen pina coladas is through Sip on these for the rest of the summer

RIKARD LARMA/METRO

▶ Drink your heart out: Valanni's new "skinny" menu cuts down on the calories.

If you're out for the night and stuck counting calories, you usually only have a couple options: A watery light beer, Diet Coke and clear rum or a vodka soda. (Wait — Pellegrino and lime? Who invited you?)

Which is why we're super psyched for Valanni's (1229 Spruce St.) new "skinny" cocktail menu. Ringing in at under 170 calories — and usually considerably less — there's a little something for every lush who has a pencil skirt to squeeze into on Monday morning.

For a smart and sweet sip, try the "Fresh and Frisky" (vodka, blackberries, lime and basil at 156 calories) or the "What a Teas" (Sweet Tea vodka and lemongrass-infused lemonade for 166).

Even the dreaded margarita manages to slim down here: The "Hot For Herra" packs a modest 139 calories, which is less than the garnish on the Bloody Marys you were throwing back on Sunday.

Evil taxes, evil communists

RE: "DEBT DEBATE, THE SECOND DAY": Yeah, down with the "nanny do-gooder" for nothing state. For a start, let's first do away with the departments of disinformation: EPA, DEP, FEMA, FDA, TSA, DOE, DOJ, FBI, CIA, IRS, NASA, FDIC. Then down with Medicare and Social Security and finally down with all the minimum wage and burdensome child labor laws. After that, we can bring back the sweat shops from the third world so that we won't have any competition. SUZY SANDOR, VIA E-MAIL

President Obama's stubborn and infantile refusal to raise the mythical and meaningless debt limit without conditions shows his true colors — and it isn't black, it's red! His aim will plunge our country into a national financial chaos. If his politics remain intact, he is similar to a terrorist, void of physical weaponry but just as capable of inflicting injury to all. In the end, Obama — blowing off his usual oratorical hot air and threats — knows that he must elevate the debt ceiling or face detrimental consequences, including his own failed presidency. PETER ZACCONE, VIA E-MAIL

I cannot fathom why Kelly Donnoe wants our country to become a third-world sweatshop. That's not the kind of country I want to raise my children in. JOSEPH CONNELL, VIA E-MAIL

The United States is one of the least-taxed advanced economies on the planet. Back in the good old days, under such Republican administrations as Eisenhower, Nixon and even Reagan, upper tax rates reached 70 percent to more than 90 percent, compared to a meager 35 percent today. The notion that now, as the country teeters toward bankruptcy, we must not consider increasing taxes as one means of putting our fiscal house in order is nothing more than a political soap box the Republicans have perched themselves on. CRAIG SHOEMAKE, VIA E-MAIL

The delusional thinking behind such "nanny do-gooder" commie ideas is very old indeed. In "The Wisdom of the Bones" paleoanthropologists demonstrate how, hundreds of thousands of years ago, a member of the species Homo erectus was kept alive for weeks, despite a crippling disease, by the nurturance of a bleeding-heart conspecific. It is certainly time that we stopped acting like cavepeople and marched boldly into the Brave New World! ROBERT B. PIERCE, VIA E-MAIL

Horoscope

♋ Cancer June 21-July 22. Hold off on making any important agreements with another. Although people mean well, it isn't likely they would stand the test of time.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. People in general tend to want to shift their burdens onto someone else, so if anybody thinks you're an easy mark, this person will try to dump his or her work in your lap. Don't be had.

♍ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. Depending too heavily on Lady Luck instead of your own abilities will guarantee you to fail at whatever it is you're trying to pull off. Avoid getting involved in anything chancy.

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. Don't be unduly awed by titles or trappings. Just because someone has a title doesn't necessary make him or her bigger than life. It only defines the job the person is assigned to do.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. It's wise to abide by your instincts about participating in any kind of financial debate with someone who always thinks he or she is right.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. Underestimating the competition is always a mistake. Thus, regardless of how inept you think someone is, take him or her seriously.

♒ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. Think twice before absentmindedly being unrealistically generous to someone who doesn't deserve it. There's a good chance that on impulse you'll give away something you'll regret.

♓ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. If you have a choice, avoid any gathering where someone who makes you feel uncomfortable is likely to be in attendance. You won't have any fun.

♈ Aries March 21-April 19. It would be best not to depend on another to do something for you that you know the person really doesn't want to do. She or he will either do a bad job or totally let you down.

♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. Don't try to impose your views on someone who you know will be unreceptive to what you have to say. All you'll accomplish is making this person stand even firmer.

♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. The handling of your resources isn't likely to be your strong suit today, so it behooves you to be as prudent as you can. Additionally, it would be wise not to offer any financial advice.

Americans move on to World Cup final

First championship game for US since 1999 • 3-1 win over France was in doubt early in second half • But Wambach the hero once more • Squad gets Japan in Sunday showdown

For the first time in 12 years, the U.S. women's national soccer team is headed back to the World Cup final.

And just like last time, they'll be facing an Asian squad for the title.

The Americans overcame a frantic French attack yesterday, winning their semifinal, 3-1.

Hours later, Japan punched its own ticket to the final with a 3-1 comeback win over Sweden.

The U.S. took its only two matchups with Japan at the Women's World Cup, in 1991 and 1995.

In 1999, the last time the Americans played in the tournament final, they famously topped China in penalty kicks.

A return trip to the championship game seemed unlikely early in the second half yesterday, when France wiped out the Americans' 1-0 lead and threatened to go ahead themselves.

But after being badly dominated in the midfield for a half-hour, the Americans showed better conditioning late. Abby Wambach — the hero of Sunday's quarterfinal against Brazil — headed in the eventual game-winner in the 79th minute.

Alex Morgan sealed things with a pretty floater three minutes later.

"We haven't done anything the easy way, and we've had some serious ups and downs," said forward Lauren Cheney, who assisted on Wambach's go-ahead goal. "I think we just continue to follow our own path.

"You always want it to be 5-0 and you always want to have a great game and prove to everybody how great you are, but that's not for us." METRO

Tale of the tape

World Cup final: United States vs. Japan

How they got here
The U.S. went 2-1-0 in Group C, then beat Brazil and France in the knockout rounds. Japan went 2-1-0 in Group B, then beat Germany and Sweden in the knockout rounds.

Head to head
The Americans and Japanese have played twice this year, with the U.S. winning by identical 2-0 scores. The U.S. handed Japan its largest defeat of all time on April 29, 1999, winning 9-0.

Quoted
"We've achieved part of our goal," Abby Wambach said. "We're in the final. We want to complete it."

MICHAEL VICK: BEST EVER?

Fantasy sports

ADAM LEVITAN
ALEVITAN@METRO.US

Michael Vick will never be compared with Joe Montana or Peyton Manning in real football. But he can be in the conversation with Marshall Faulk and LaDainian Tomlinson when we're talking fantasy.

In 2006, Tomlinson set the standard for fantasy seasons by scoring 31 touchdowns and piling up 2,323 total yards. Thanks to Vick's unique talents, he can top that.

Projecting numbers

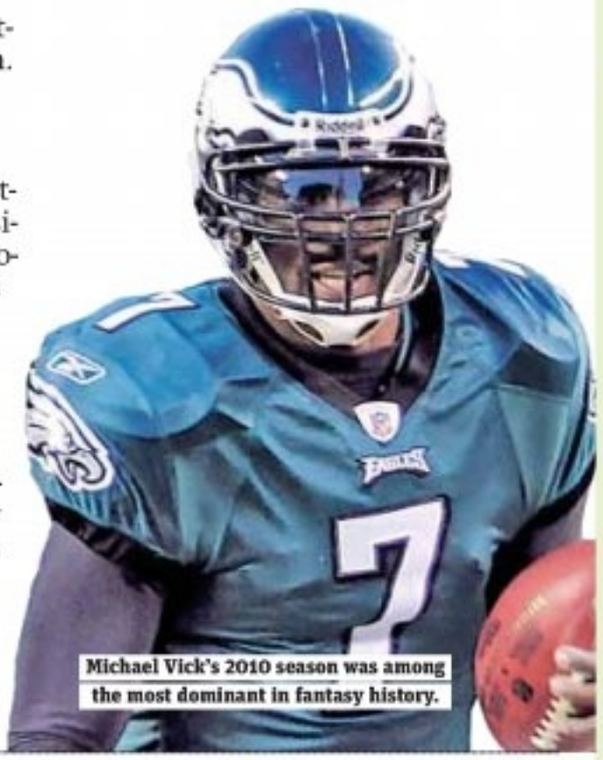
Vick started 12 games last season. If we project those stats over 16 games, he would have thrown for 4,024 yards, ran for 901 and racked up 40 total touchdowns. That obliterates Tomlinson's 2006 campaign.

A step ahead

Before last season, Vick hadn't started a game since 2006. It's very possible that he can get even more explosive and improve even more on his passing touch in 2011.

The injury question

The reckless running style that makes Vick so good in fantasy is also his biggest drawback. But injury prone? Vick missed just two games over his final three seasons with the Falcons and the lack of a flak jacket caused last year's injury. In the middle of the first round, Vick's upside is worth the risk.



Michael Vick's 2010 season was among the most dominant in fantasy history.

NFL news

No Moreno?

▶ Coach John Fox said that running back will be the Broncos' No. 1 priority in free agency. It's surprising — yet obvious — that the team isn't sold on Knowshon Moreno as a workhorse back. Downgrade Moreno across the board.

Top MLB pickups

Bobby Parnell

▶ RP, Mets
With Francisco Rodriguez now a setup man in Milwaukee, Parnell is the favorite for saves in New York.

Cory Luebke

▶ SP, Padres
Clayton Richard (shoulder) is shelved, locking Luebke into the rotation. He has a 64/18 K/BB ratio this season.

Luke Gregerson

▶ RP, Padres
Heath Bell will likely be traded. Mike Adams is in the mix, but Gregerson is the long-term closing option.

MLB speed

Steals is an easy category to make up ground in. Add these guys cheaply:

1 Alex Presley, OF, PIT — Batting leadoff every day and sporting a .424 on-base percentage. Major prospect still has plenty of room to grow at age 25.

2 Cameron Maybin, OF, SD — Only 12 steals so far this year, but now fully healthy. Maybin will start running more.

3 Mike Trout, OF, LAA — Trout is worth holding while we see if he can hold off Peter Bourjos. Stole 56 bases in minors last year.

Owners, players very close?

Is the NFL close to a deal?

A day after the owners declared a July 21 date for ratification of a new collective bargaining agreement, players fired back yesterday with a joint statement. In it, Tom Brady, Peyton Manning and Drew Brees said "it is time" to end the lockout.

"This is the time of year we as players turn our attention to the game on the field. We hope the owners feel the same way," the statement said.

Later, Brees told a San Diego radio station that he thought the two sides were "very close." METRO

Done deal: Comcast-Spectacor completes sale of Sixers team

The Sixers are officially off the market.

Comcast-Spectacor reached an agreement yesterday to sell the franchise to a group of investors led by billionaire Joshua Harris. The deal still has to be approved by the NBA's Board of Governors. That should happen "later in 2011," per a press release.

The acquisition doesn't include the Flyers or the Wells Fargo Center. The Sixers will keep their broadcast agreement with Comcast SportsNet Philadelphia.

17 At $330 million, Forbes magazine valued the Sixers as the 17th most-expensive franchise in the NBA.

"We are honored to have the opportunity to be affiliated with this storied franchise," said Harris in a statement. "As a basketball fan who attended college in Philadelphia, and with family roots here, I have always felt a strong connection to this city and the 76ers. We look forward to helping the 76ers organization build on this past season's accomplishments in the years ahead."

The deal is worth a reported $280 million for a 90 percent share of the team. Ed Snider will retain the remaining 10 percent. This year, Forbes magazine valued the Sixers at $330 million.

The 46-year-old Harris is the co-founder of Apollo Global Management. His group includes David Blitzer, of The Blackstone Group and former Sacramento Kings executive Jason Levien. METRO

Harrison rips commish in magazine interview

Steelers linebacker lets emotions fly in new article
Says writer twisted his words Discipline coming?

James Harrison isn't one to miss tackles. Apparently, he isn't one to mince words, either.

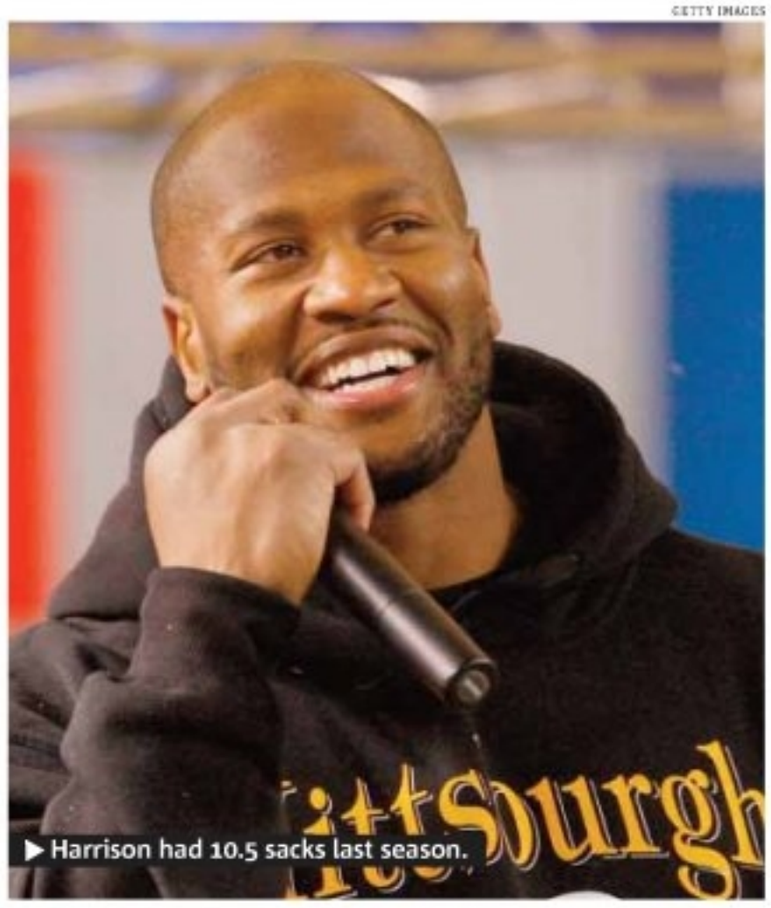
The outspoken Steelers linebacker referred to NFL commissioner Roger Goodell as a "dictator" and "devil" in an interview with Men's Journal magazine. And those were the nicer things he said about the commish. Harrison was fined $100,000 for illegal hits last season.

"If that man was on fire and I had to piss to put him out, I wouldn't do it," Harrison told the magazine. "I hate him and will never respect him."

Harrison said if the Steelers had beaten the Packers in the Super Bowl, he would have told this to Goodell at the trophy presentation: "Why don't you quit and do something else, like start your own league in flag football?"

With the ongoing lockout, it would be hard for the NFL or the Steelers to discipline Harrison.

GETTY IMAGES



▶ Harrison had 10.5 sacks last season.

"I have not yet seen the article in Men's Journal nor have I spoken to James Harrison about his comments," Steelers president Art Rooney II said in a statement. "We will discuss the situation at the appropriate time, when permitted once the labor situation is resolved."

Harrison also blasted teammate Ben Roethlisberger for throwing two interceptions in the Super Bowl. (He later told ESPN that the author twisted many of his comments.)

"Hand the ball off and stop trying to act like Peyton Manning," he said. "You ain't that and you know it, man; you just get paid like he does." METRO

Twitter reacts

Obviously, Twitter was abuzz with reaction to James Harrison's comments. Here are a few of our favorites:

Johnny Mac calls for removal of umpires

"Kill the Umpire!"

Some two decades since his legendary career began to wind down, John McEnroe still believes that would be the best thing for tennis.

"In five years we won't need umpires," said McEnroe yesterday, before he and Martina Hingis took the court for the WTT New York SportTimes versus Billie Jean King's Philadelphia Freedom at Villanova. "I would find it more interesting if players called their own lines. It would be different, because most of the time they'd be right. I think the players might even remember the score."

Outspoken as always, the 52-year-old McEnroe still gets his juices flowing for World TeamTennis. Tonight, he'll face storied rival Bjorn Borg in a match on Randall's Island in New York.

GETTY IMAGES

▶ McEnroe

McEnroe believes that if the current challenge system had been around when he was screaming at chair umpires, it would've helped his career.

"I'd have had a lot more energy to play," said McEnroe, who opened a tennis academy last year. "I'd have been able to use that energy to focus on what I should've been doing in the first place — hitting the ball properly. Some people would say I would've won less majors. I think I would've won more, but been more boring."

Vyke enters the VoIP market

ANDERSEN ROSS

▶ Use either your cell phone or a laptop to make VoIP calls at a more affordable rate.

New affordable calling system reduces how much you spend to talk with far-flung friends Use your cell phone, landline or computer

A new player has entered the increasingly competitive Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) market, promising some of the cheapest and best-quality calls available, accessible through either a cell phone or a PC. Vyke.com says its calls come without sound distortion common to other VoIP providers.

On a cell phone, the service is accessed by downloading an app that runs in the background and which opens automatically when a user makes a call.

Vyke bytes

With Vyke, calls can be made from a cell phone, landline or PC.

- Vyke offers interception on calls for Symbian (Nokia) and RIM (BlackBerry) handsets. All calls — domestic and international — can be routed through a Vyke account.
- Vyke will offer the same service in iPhone and Android within six weeks.
- Visit www.vyke.com or m.vyke.com on a cell phone

Vyke also promises to let users keep their SIM card, number and handset, and offers calls not only via a data connection, but also via Wi-Fi, GPRS/GSM, PC, landline and 3G.

Tore Hellebo, CEO of Vyke, told Metro: "It's a crowded VoIP market out there, but we firmly believe VykeMobile has a strong and differentiated positioning. We anticipate significant growth over the next six months as we establish ourselves among the key VoIP players by year end."

Vyke has also launched VykeZone, a service that, for just 25 cents for up to an hour, allows calls from a mobile phone or landline to 25 landline destinations.

The countries included are: Australia, Brunei, Canada, China, Cyprus, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, Hungary, Ireland, Israel, Italy, New Zealand, Poland, Puerto Rico, Singapore, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Taiwan, U.K., U.S. and Venezuela.
